Surveyors for the Canadian Pacific Railway were impressed with the Turtle Mountain region and noted it would become a chief point of settlement in the coming years. The site of the town of Boissevain was decided in 1885 and by 1886 there was a blacksmith shop, a post office and two grain warehouses. Landmark buildings include St. Matthew's Anglican Church, built with locally found granite walls and St. Paul's United Church built with local sandstone. Like many towns in the west, Boissevain's prosperity came with the railway. Since that time the town has grown to a population of 1,577 (2021). Points of interest include:

Murals - more than 20 different murals have been professionally painted on the sides of buildings throughout the town. These can be viewed either by walking or driving in the downtown area .

Tommy Turtle is a 28 ft, 10,000 pound Western Painted Turtle statue located across from the Wilderness Inn. It symbolizes the town's link to turtle mountains and includes a picnic area.
